The Value of a Lunch and Learn

By: Mark Clemmensen

It is not uncommon for an architectural firm to see one lunch and learn a month, providing education on a topic which they feel will enhance product or building science knowledge to a majority of their employees. There are a number of different types of lunch and learns offered not only to teach but to also provide core credits required to maintain designations from different associations.

Mark Clemmensen
(Chair)

Some lunch and learns touch on "Back to the Basics" principles for firms that feel they might be a little rusty on. Topics such as flashing, roofing/waterproofing and air and vapour barrier detailing are just a few that are good to have discussed at least once a year to ensure that these key building science principles are being dealt with correctly before the drawings are at the construction site.

Hot topics in the industry also tend to draw the masses, as many try and stay on the same educational level during the transition period between knowledge and application on projects. Presentations dealing with building code changes, legal updates, CCDC contract updates, and new or innovative products are most commonly required at the conception stage but slowly dwindle as people become aware of their existence and decide if they might modify how the firm operates. One example of this dwindle could be BIM design.

I feel that there is a time and a place where a lunch and learn might be preferred over a face-to-face meeting. However, this decision needs to be made between the lunch and learn coordinator and the technical representative who is going to take on the expense of providing the lunch. In my opinion, there must be a balance of key influencers and individuals with a desire to learn, for a lunch and learn to be successful. Influencers can help instill the basic principles or core values that the presentation is trying to convey to the firm long after the presentation has concluded. Without this balance it may feel like the lunch is more important than the learn.

Conference 2014 – Kitchener, Ontario – Tapping the Future – May 21 thru 25, 2014

Conference 2014 is taking place in Kitchener, Ontario, starting from May 21, 2014 thru May 25, 2014 at the Crowne Plaza.

This year's conference is a joint effort of the Grand Valley,

Hamilton/Niagara and Toronto Chapter and the organizing committee has been working tirelessly and diligently to making sure this conference is the best one yet! This year's conference includes many topics such as Bird Friendly Design, Waste Diversion, Overcoming Current Challenges in Bidding and Tendering, LEED V.4, Implementing Building Science & Sustainability in Structures and lots more!

On behalf of the conference organizing committee, for which I have had the pleasure of working with directly, I invite you to join us for Conference 2014 and look forward to seeing you in Kitchener!

Toronto Chapter's Vision 2020

The Executive Committee is presently reviewing all of the activities of the Toronto Chapter and is brainstorming new ideas and methods on improving the activities of our chapter. Recently, a small subcommittee of the Executive was formed to specifically look at what we are doing well, not so well and where we want to be by the year 2020. One of the many goals of the Toronto Chapter is to cater to its membership and provide membership value. In preparing for Vision 2020 which is to be unveiled on September 1, 2014, we would welcome all of your comments, thoughts, suggestions and feedback. You can do this by emailing me directly or calling me at any time. I look forward to hearing back from you and look forward to receiving your constructive criticism and thoughts.

CSC Toronto Chapter 27th Annual Golf Tournament

On behalf of the Golf Committee (Matt Roberts & Steve LeBlanc), I invite you to register for the 27th Annual Toronto Chapter Golf Tournament taking place on August 14, 2014 at the Richmond Hill Golf Club. Tournament registration and information is available on the CSC Toronto Chapter web site at <http://toronto.csc-dcc.ca>. As of April 15, 2014, we only have room for 80 golfers! Register early to avoid disappointment!

As always, we are looking for sponsors to support our tournament. Hole Sponsorships have been selling like hot cakes, as such we have the following available:

- Wine Sponsorship - $500 + HST (max 4 sponsors)
- Hole-in-One Competition Sponsor - $500 + HST (one space only).
- Hole in one prize is a 2014 Lexus IS 250.
- Door Prize Sponsors - $200 + HST (max 4 sponsors)

If you are interested in sponsoring this year's tournament, please contact me directly via email at kazim.kananI@bharchitects.com to reserve your spot! To all of our past and current sponsors, thank you for your generous support.

As always, we are looking for prizes for our prize table! If you are interested, please contact Matt Roberts at matt.roberts@bharchitects.com.

Till then, and once the snow clears up, practice, practice, practice!

Supporting Habitat for Humanity - Your Thoughts and Feedback

As announced at the April 2014 dinner meeting, the Toronto Chapter is looking at setting up a Habitat for Humanity CSC Build Day. This event would allow members to take part in building a habitat for humanity home, giving back to society at large and also provide an excellent team building and educational opportunity. Each individual interested in participating would have to raise a minimum of $600 per person in order to participate and this build day event will likely take place during the Summer of 2015. Anyone wishing to sign up for this exciting opportunity is asked contact Donna J. Fournier by email at djfournier@cscutoronto.ca.

Toronto Chapter Executive Committee 2013/2014

It has been an honour and pleasure to serve alongside an excellent, dedicated and hardworking Toronto Chapter Executive Committee. I would like to take the opportunity to thank each and every member of the Executive Committee for their time, efforts and dedication to making the 2013/2014 year a fun, exciting and fulfilling year. Next year, I move into the role of Chair for the Toronto Chapter and I look forward to working with those on the team returning as well as some of the new faces joining our Executive Committee.

Consider volunteering at the CSC Toronto Chapter Level. We are looking for passionate members with variety of experience on various subcommittees. Getting involved with the Toronto Chapter not only allows you to give back to the Association but allows you to strengthen ties with the industry, increase your network and enhance your leadership skills. We are still looking for a Newsletter Editor and Contractor/Trade Officer. Of course, in addition to the leadership roles, we are looking for dedicated volunteers to assist on various subcommittees.

Call for Volunteers

Concrete Floors and Moisture Testing

This Presentation qualifies for self-directed OAA Credits

THE TOPIC

An introduction to concrete floor slabs, the causes of moisture related floor covering failures and the latest industry standard test methods.

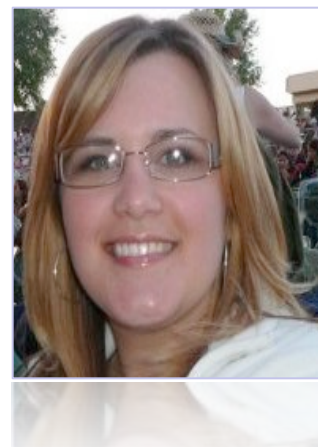

At the end of the program, you will understand:

- Many of the causes of concrete floor slab moisture problems
- Industry standards related to testing and preparation of concrete floor slabs
- Testing methods for concrete moisture testing

Our Speaker: Mrs. Jennifer Chambers

Jennifer has been in Business Development for over 5 years with IFTI. She works closely with the A and D community educating on concrete slab moisture testing and the importance of strong testing language with an independent testing company in specifications.

As an education provider for AIA, Jennifer provides educational seminars to industry members. She is certified in concrete slab moisture testing through ICRI (International Concrete Repair Institute). Jennifer is an active member of the CSI (Construction Specification Institute) San Francisco Chapter.

Getting to know David Charko!

By: Stacey Bogdanow

Tell us a little about David Charko

I'm still young into my career in the business of construction and the built environment. After 5+ years working with a well-established manufacturer's representative firm I was able to make the transition to working directly for one of those manufacturers. I attended school at the University of Waterloo, though taking the distinctly unrelated to architecture program of Political Science. I'm married with two boys under the age of three whom have succeeded in eliminating my dependence on normal sleeping hours in order to be productive. My interest in the built environment and all it encapsulates has grown from an interest in supporting a family to an amateur love of architecture and design and passion for playing a role in connecting the right people with the right products to enable better buildings. All my time has been spent growing in the ever-changing landscape of Ontario.

How did you learn of CSC?

During my first job as an independent rep, my boss Susan Gosney touted the virtues of participating in the local CSC chapter along with the No Frills show and meetings. Her ongoing relationships with fellow members of the CSC and the earned and mutual trust she had with many influential members and industry personnel made an impression on me. When changing roles to my new job I knew that I wanted to participate and expand on the value that I placed on CSC and that fellow members might place on me.

Why join CSC?

I've always been fascinated by the way that networking plays in business. Whether in the construction industry or not, networking is like a pseudo-currency. Working in the capacity that I do, there is a great opportunity to contribute useable and helpful support to folks who can really use it while building some great friendships and having enjoyable conversations.

Do you plan on taking any courses?

In the past the idea of taking courses was not on my radar, but now that I'm in a role where this education can allow me to be of more value in my job and with the people I work with, I plan to take the Principles of Construction Documentation course. I know this will help me be more effective on a daily basis.

Would you encourage others to become members of the CSC – Toronto Chapter?

I would absolutely recommend others become members and upon changing jobs I immediately requested that I join the CSC Toronto Chapter and be the go to for our company in Toronto. Meetings that I have attended in the past have had great speakers and topics that engaged me and others and the attendance only brought greater numbers of people with which to strike up conversation.
